Give the Gift of Childhood

Dear Supporter,

The greatest gift we might possibly give in this lifetime is this: Home. Every child deserves their basic needs and a safe place to call home. While we currently house 16 girls with 11 graduates, we have a waitlist of girls who don't yet have this basic human right. Daniel Walker, who used to be an undercover anti-trafficking agent, once said after his rescue experiences, "Sexual abuse of a young person is perhaps the very worst crime against humanity. It strips them of their heart and soul. It murders the person but leaves their bodies alive."

Our restoration homes give the girls the most precious gift we can ever give: their childhood back. Restoring her childhood is a piece of the holistic picture of healing for victims of trafficking, abuse, trauma. Our restoration homes don't just provide shelter, we also offer family.

"I love Hosea's Heart because they gave me sisters, aunties, a mom, a family. I take them as my real blood because they taught me how to love, care, and respect. They take me as their child that came from their womb."

-15-year-old survivor

For the past ten years, we have been offering all of this through the generosity of primarily individual giving! This is extraordinary, though not a surprise, because we come from grass roots beginnings – small town, big impact. However, we have reached our capacity in housing girls in desperate need of safety, who are currently still on a wait list for this safe home. Needless to say, we plan to expand this year. From grass roots to New Growth, help us multiply our reach, double our capacity, and get girls off our current wait list and into our family by building a home!

In order to build, it will cost $17,000 for ground works at the site of the new homes, including connecting and extending electrical works, water harvesting, plumbing, and septic. But for each new home, it will cost only $50,000 to build, becoming home for 8 new girls with a Swazi house mother! We are well on our way to raising funds for the construction of the first home.

Would you give the gift of "Home" this year by investing $4,500 or more?

It may seem costly, but this is giving a soul her entire future, and that is priceless. Depending on your interest of investment, we would love to offer you special celebrations in return. Please consider partnering with us in one of our package levels and reap the benefits of not only physical rewards but eternal ones, too!

I look forward to hearing from you and sharing the impacts of what your investments have done in giving a girl her childhood, a home, and saving her future.

With love and gratitude,
